We are pleased to invite your company to participate in the 19th Annual ISEPS/COS Joint Conference: 2023 – Looking To The Future. It is scheduled for Friday, March 10, 2023, at the Stephens Conference Center in Rosemont, Illinois (near O’Hare International Airport).

The COS for more than 125 years has provided educational opportunities to Chicago area ophthalmologists and has earned a well-deserved national reputation. Meanwhile, ISEPS – now in its 53rd year of service – has established itself as the premier statewide professional society representing ophthalmology. By partnering for this conference, the two groups offer ophthalmic companies a unique opportunity to participate in an exceptional continuing medical education conference for ophthalmologists, technicians and practice administrators.

Attendance at this meeting has averaged more than 250 ophthalmologists each year before the pandemic, making this one of the largest state ophthalmology conferences in the nation. We expect this year's attendance to be pretty much back to pre-pandemic levels. In addition to physician lectures, we offer a concurrent practice management session for practice administrators in addition to a separate session for ophthalmic technicians. We are confident that you’ll find this event to be an excellent opportunity to make new contacts or renew old friendships.

A diagram of the exhibit space is posted on the ISEPS website along with information pertinent to exhibitors, including our W-9 form, a “fillable” invoice form (if your company needs one) and programs for all three sessions. The on-line diagram is updated frequently as registrations are received so you can see which booths have been committed almost in real-time. You’ll notice that we have included “premium” sponsorship opportunities along with the regular 10x10’ booths. Exhibitors at the “Platinum Level” will have access to exclusive space near the exhibit hall for private meetings or demonstrations of equipment.

The attached meeting fact sheet describes highlights of the conference, opportunities for exhibitors, and related information. The conference organizers are committed to generating attendee traffic at your booth and to make this a worthwhile investment of time and money.

Please register online or return the paper registration form as soon as possible so we can confirm your space. Be sure to indicate your booth preference and a second choice. (Check the booth diagram first.) Your prompt reply will increase the chance you get the space you desire.

If you have any questions, please contact the ISEPS/COS office at 800/838-3627 or by email: Rich@ILeyeMD.org. In the meantime, we want to thank you for your consideration and look forward to seeing you in Rosemont on March 10!

ISEPS/COS 2023 ANNUAL MEETING FACTS

- - - Our 19th Year - - -

- This is a joint meeting of the statewide ophthalmological society – the Illinois Society of Eye Physicians & Surgeons – along with one of the oldest and most respected local ophthalmology organizations in the country, the Chicago Ophthalmological Society.
- The 2005 conference was the first joint meeting by these two organizations, and it was viewed as being highly successful. Since then, attendance has remained strong, averaging more than 250 ophthalmologists, plus about 65 practice administrators and nearly 200 ophthalmic technicians.
